A FEARFUL TERRORISM.

We know with what fury indignation the nation received the news of the recent Hamburg massacre. We have been compelled to see passions laid bare that should have been quelled in '63; to see this, with no assurance that they will not reappear with still greater violence. Yet, shocking as these political murders are, and cowed as the freedmen have become by their shadow, Confederate ingenuity has brought to bear cruelty far more effective. At the uplifting of the Federal arm we have seen peace settle down again upon these lawless sections, and against that authority the Confederates dare not openly strike. But what power shall avert a race proscription? Does the thought start? Men have walked calmly to the scaffold, and suffered tranquilly at the stake, and some without a murmur the rack and the screw, who would have bowed helpless to the dust under such a doom as that. Yet proscription, more terrible than prison stripes, the branding iron, the plague goes on in the South to day unconcealed and defiant. With their acceptance of the constitutional amendments still warm upon their lips the Southern Confederates, in speech by letter, and through the newspapers, have warned the colored man that if he dare to vote except as ordered they will not only neither hire his labor, buy his produce, nor show him recognition, but will replace in the field and shop whenever and wherever they can. Is this intolerance simply? Did ever a bulletin of the Mollicca Maguire contain a more vindictive threat or reveal a more terrible purpose? Trusting in the protection of the government arms, the freedmen has hitherto gone to the polls in spite of masks and revolvers. What will be now, still under the peril of murder, and confronted with the chance of starvation? Is there any law to prevent the operation of such a policy as the Opelika, Alabama, Times thus boldly advocates?

The most potent agency that is within the compass of our using to teach the Radical the iniquity of his machinations and to compel him to respect the claims of civilization and the imperious wants of the people is the withdrawal of our moneyed support. If there is a colored man who is willing to recognize the necessity of putting Alabama under the rule of intelligence, he becomes our friend, and he should be preferred as tenant of our houses, laborer on the farm, drayman upon the streets, sexton of the church, and in every way right and proper sustained and built up. Merchants, mechanics and tradesmen of every character have a right to expect and demand support from and at the hands of those with whom they are allied in this great struggle for reform. While the Radical cannot have the effrontery even to ask a fish without the rational expectation of receiving a stone, every man who assumes a scalawag individually contributes to building up radicalism. The way to kill the party is to put upon short allowance its individual members.

Against such a weapon, fanatically wielded, the freeman is helpless.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

Tweed's Capture

MADRID, September 10.

It was found in July last that Tweed was in Santiago de Cuba, having passed there from Havana. General Jovellar was applied to by the American consul to have Tweed secured and sent to the United States. General Jovellar was quite willing, even in the absence of an extradition treaty, to oblige the American government, in return for their courtesy in the Araquilez case some years ago.

Tweed, however, was apprised in Santiago of his impending danger, and sailed for Vigo, Spain, July 27, on the sailing vessel Carmen. Mr. Cushing, therupon, notified the Spanish Government of the fact, and found them willing to arrest Tweed and return him to Cuba or deliver him up to the American Consul.

Every precaution was taken by the Spanish Government to secure Tweed's arrest in Spain or on any coast line by which he might arrive.

Several orders were given to the local authorities, especially those of Vigo and on the Galician coast.

On September 6 the Carmen hove in sight off Vigo and was immediately boarded by the Governor. The Governor at once recognized Tweed, from photographs which he had in his possession for some time. Tweed was entered on the ship's papers under the name of Secox, and was accompanied by a man giving the name of William Hunt, who is said to be his nephew. Both were at once sequestered and thrown into the calaboose, under a strong guard, but were subsequently transferred to a fortress in Vigo, under the command of the Captain General.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.

All the journals have kind words for the Spanish Government, for offering to surrender Tweed without the asking.

MADRID, Sept. 10.

The First Secretary of the American Legation has requested the extradition of Tweed, and he will, consequently, be handed over to the American authorities.

LONDON, Sept. 10.

A Herald special from Vigo states: On Wednesday, the 6th instant, on the arrival of the Spanish bark Carmen at the quarantine harbor of San Juan Vigo, from Santiago de Cuba, the Governor of the Province of Ponte Vizcaya boarded her. The Governor was accompanied by some of the secret police, and inquired for two of the passengers. He ordered their detention, and, having consulted some photographs, arrested them.

Escorted by a detachment of police, the prisoners were sent to Corunna, whence they will be transferred to Havana on the Spanish mail steamer leaving on the 21st. On their arrival they will be handed over to the American authorities. Their baggage has been seized and goes with them. It is believed here that the two are William M. Tweed and his secretary.

A special from Burgos to the Daily News says: Mr. Adeo, United States Charge d'Affaires, in the absence of Minister Cushing, visited the Spanish Minister at La Grange and arranged for the surrender of Tweed to the American Government.

MADRID, Sept. 11.—The following additional particulars of the arrest of Tweed have been received: Captain General Jovellar, at Havana, received intelligence that Tweed had disembarked at Santiago de Cuba, and notified the authorities there.

Before the latter could take action,

Tweed embarked on the sailing vessel Carmen, bound to Vigo. Captain General Jovellar telegraphed to the Madrid Government, which, fearing that the Carmen might go to some other port, requested the authorities at all of the Spanish ports to examine persons on board all vessels named

Carmen. There are twelve Spanish vessels of that name. The portrait of Tweed being indispensable, the Spanish authorities obtained and made copies of a caricature in an American journal, representing him

as beating a child, supposed to typify

American justice. This caricature led the Spanish authorities and the reporters of the Spanish papers to believe that Tweed had been kidnapping children. Hence, in the first official announcement received of the arrival of Tweed, it was stated that he had been arrested for kidnapping

American children. Tweed is confined on the Isle of Saint Simon in Vigo bay where he is undergoing quarantine, strictly watched by the Custom House guard. At the expiration of his quarantine, he will be surrendered to the United States representative.

Against such a weapon, fanatically wielded, the freeman is helpless.

AT THE PAVILION.—Yesterday a busy scene was presented at the pavilion, the exhibitors unpacking and arranging the articles. Mrs. Kingsbury of Carson, makes a splendid display of pictures. The view of Yosemite is very fine indeed, while the likeness of A. Delano (Old Block) is perfect. Some excellent samples of needle-work is shown by the ladies. In the agricultural line we saw a 79-pound pumpkin, an assortment of large apples, peaches and grapes. To-day a much larger assortment of articles will be placed in the pavilion. We anticipate a good display in a day or two.

LECTURER.—Hon Schuyler Colfax, Past Grand Rep. I. O. O. F., will visit California next Spring, and has been engaged to deliver his celebrated lecture on Abraham Lincoln for the benefit of the Odd Fellows' Library Association in San Francisco. Also to lecture in lecture in San Jose, Sacramento, and some other places in California. As he will only remain a few weeks, and most of the time be passed in visiting places of interest. Lodges or associations in Nevada wishing to engage him had better do so at once, as his lectures cannot exceed a dozen.

DYER'S HALL.—Owing to the contraction of a severe cold Miss Rose Eyttinge could not play "Rose Michel" last evening. "Lad Astray" was substituted in which she appeared in her great character of Arimanda, as played by her in New York for 226 consecutive nights. We were delighted with her impersonation of the character. She was ably supported by the entire company. This evening, "East Lynne," with Miss Eyttinge in her favorite character of Lady Isobel. Secure your seats at C. Brooks', Virginia street.

"RED HANDLED MIKE."—We were visited yesterday by Mike C. O'Connor, commonly known as "Red Handled Mike," the Western Light Weight. He has just arrived from New York city and says that his sole business west is to have a prize fight with James Trevillian, of Virginia City. Mr. O'Connor has made a reputation in the P. R. east and feels confident that he can get away with Mr. Trevillian. We may expect to hear of a fight being arranged between these two men in a day or two.

DEMOCRATIC CALL.—An official call for the Democratic County Central Committee to meet to-morrow at Judge T. E. Haydon's office, is issued this morning in another portion of this paper. The "straight-outs" are not satisfied with the action of the Conventions last Saturday and will no doubt call new primaries, hold another convention and nominate another county ticket—all of which are to be true-blue Democrats. The meeting will be held at 10 A. M.

APPARATUS.—Bishop Whiteaker has just returned from San Francisco, where he has been purchasing the necessary furniture and apparatus for the Young Ladies Seminary. These will arrive in plenty of time to be placed into position before school opens. Forty applications have been received for scholarship.

NEVADA STATE FAIR.

First Day.

The attendance at the grounds was not as large as might have been expected, not over 400 persons being present.

THE FIRST RACE

advertised was the stake for thoroughbred three year old fillies, for $300, given by Theodore Winters, and $300 added by the Society; dash of one and one-half miles. There were three entries, but two were not brought on the track, and Winters' Ballonettes simply galloped over the track for the forfeit money.

The judges for the day were A. A. Longly, S. T. Fox, W. R. Chamberlain, Timers—Joe Stuart and J. L. Eoff.

SECOND RACE.

The next race was a handicap, one and one-quarter miles. Amanda Overland Pat, Rafe and Lodi started. In the pool Amanda sold for $50, Overland Pat $20, Field $5. Amanda won the race in 2:14. Overland seeond, Lodi third and Rafe behind.

THIRD RACE.

Barnes and Red Horse started. The race was won by Red Horse in 1:52. No pools were sold on this race both horses being from the same stable.

FOURTH RACE.

Billy Newell and Bradley started. Newell was the favorite at $20 to $7. Newell drew the pole and kept the lead until the last three-fourths of a mile, when Bradley lapped and passed him, coming in several lengths ahead. Time 4:10. Bradley thus regains his laurels, having met his first defeat on this track last year.

TO DAY'S RACES.

DEMOCRATIC CENTRAL COMMITTEE.—During the flurry and excitement incident to political times the list of gentlemen constituting the Democratic Central Committee was reported to us incorrectly. We now give the true committee: B. S. James (Chairman); E. F. Reed (Secretary); U. Lennon (Treasurer); J. G. Loopier and John H. Knox.

GRAND JURY.—This body met yesterday morning, but decided to adjourn until Monday, the 18th inst., at which time all jurymen, witnesses and parties generally who are interested, will be present for business. Per order,

H. H. Bent, Foreman,
 W. H. Tredway, Clerk.

EXCURSION TRAIN.—The excursion train on the V. & T. R. is hauled along by the "Reno," with Tom Clark bossing the valves and Hobart punching the ticket. The train consisted of three coaches and a baggage car yesterday.

GRANGERS.—There will be a Grangers' Reunion at the Odd Fellow's Hall, near the bridge, on Wednesday next, at 10 o'clock A. M. All Grangers visiting the Fair will be welcomed on this occasion. A Collation will be served at 12 o'clock.

LAND OF SILVER.—Mr. J. J. Powell announces elsewhere that he has the book, "Nevada, the Land of Silver," for sale at the pavilion. This book is a faithful representative of this State, and, as he says, is just the book to send to friends. Look at the work and buy a copy.

CORRECTION.—In the card published by Rev. G. W. Fitch the type made him say "pastorage," instead of "pastorate." We make the due correction, giving Mrs. Partington permission to prosecute for it.

IN TOWN.—H. B. Maxson, Deputy U. S. Surveyor, was in town yesterday attending the Fair. He leaves this morning for Virginia, but will return in a day or two to bet on the winning horse.

THE INDEPENDENTS.—met last night, and adjourned without making any township nominations.

The Reno Opera House Troop.

The lateness of the hour on Saturday night prevented our being able to fully report the opening performance at the above house. The inauguring performance bids fair for an excellent week's business during the Fair. In the opening piece "Andy Blake" (which in consequence of its success was repeated last night) Miss Laura Stevenson was the very embodiment of Irish character, the great charm of her acting being her sudden transitions from grave to gay and from gay to grave in the scenes requiring emotional as well as comic acting.

To speak the Irish brogue all through sentiment and intense feeling is a point of perfection very few soubrette actresses achieve. She also sang some Irish ballads very charmingly.

Mr. C. Mestayer at the Pollard House, is now ready to clean all ladies' and gentlemen's clothing, blankets, gloves, all kinds of lace, and merinos so that they will look as well as new. All kinds of dyeing done with neatness and dispatch.

An experience of thirteen years in the East guarantees him to ensure satisfaction.

Prices reasonable. Orders left at the dye works will be called for and returned. Give him a trial is all he asks.

CLOTHES CLEANED AND DYED.—Mr.

Felix McHugh having established a clothes cleaning and dyeing business at the Pollard House, is now ready to clean all ladies' and gentlemen's clothing, blankets, gloves, all kinds of lace, and merinos so that they will look as well as new. All kinds of dyeing done with neatness and dispatch.

An experience of thirteen years in the East guarantees him to ensure satisfaction.

Prices reasonable. Orders left at the dye works will be called for and returned. Give him a trial is all he asks.

For ladies' fine satins, taffetas and toilet-slippers, go to Sunderland's.

ALLEN C. BRAVO. agent for the Home Mutual and Lincoln Hall Fire Insurance Companies, is prepared to insure your property against loss by fire, in above first-class companies.

Losses promptly adjusted and paid in gold coin. Rates low. Office at C. A. Bragg & Co.'s lumber yard, Reno, Nev.

SITUATION WANTED.—By an experienced woman, who understands housekeeping in all of its branches, or to do chamber work in a hotel or lodging house. No objection to going into the country. Inquire for further particulars at the Western House.

To do dry goods always acceptable to a well-regulated house.

The little Alice Sylphe who appeared in the oils deserve much more praise than has been even allotted to them and one of their especial charms is their really innocent modest and childlike appearance. They are entirely free from the too popular prepossessions of manner and also, understanding of young children of the present age who appear in public.

Mr. Mestayer and Mr. C. Mestayer keep the house in a continuous roar as

R. J. McCavire and Jacques Strop, and were equally successful last night in their several characters in "The Devil's Trap." Always acceptable to a well-regulated house.

The orchestra is under the leadership of Mr. Ad. assisted by Mr. L.

De Prane as pianist, give some very fine selections and is of itself a feature of unusual merit.

Their really clever company (fifteen we believe in number, besides members of the orchestra and band) has certainly secured the good opinion of the public for the fair week.

RETURNED.—Ike Chamberlain, who has been below doctoring his eyes, has returned, but with his eyes no better. His misfortune is regretted by all.

The Democratic nominees for Lemo township officers are J. C. Brown, Justice; George W. Avery, Constable.

Location on Mining Claims.

In the location of mining claims, there is no particular form prescribed by the statute. It is necessary, however, that the requirements of the mining laws be complied with before a valid location be made and that fact should be stated in the notice.

The law requires that the notice of location should contain a full and accurate description of the ground claimed, and that the boundaries should be so plainly marked that they can be easily traced.

For the information of those interested we quote from the instructions of the Commissioners relative to the location of claims:

The claimant should therefore, prior to recording his claim, unless the vein can be traced along the surface, sink a shaft, or run a tunnel or drift, to a sufficient depth theron to discover and develop a mineral bearing vein, lode or crevice; should determine, if possible, the general course of such vein in either direction from the point of discovery, by which direction he will be governed in marking the boundaries of his claim on the surface, and should give the course and distance as nearly as practicable from the discovery shaft on the claim, to some permanent well-known points or objects, such, for instance, as stone monuments, blazed trees, confluence of streams, points of intersection of well-known gulches, ravines or roads, prominent buttes, hills, &c., which may be in the immediate vicinity, and which serve to project and fix the locus of the claim and render it susceptible of identification from the description thereof given in the record of the locations in the district.

In addition to the foregoing data, the claimant should state the names of adjoining claims, or if none adjoin, the relative position of the nearest claims; should drive a post or erect a monument of stones at each corner of his surface ground, and at the point of discovery-shaft, should fix a post, stake or board, upon which the name or names of the locators, the number of feet claimed, and in which direction from the point of discovery; it being essential that the location notice filed for record, in addition to the foregoing description should state whether the entire claim of fifteen hundred feet is taken on one side of the point of discovery, or whether it is partly on one side and partly on the other side thereof, and in the latter case, how many feet are claimed upon each side of such discovery point.

In the event of a dispute, the claimant should file a complaint in the appropriate court, and the court will decide the question.

It is important to note that the location notice must be filed within 12 months from the date of discovery.
